

Join us April 16th, 3:00 p.m., in Denver District Court – Honorable Judge Robert L. McGahey, Jr., has opened up his courtroom for a FREE two-hour CLE on:

“Jury Body Language – Identifying the ones who are leaning against you”

Two successful and opposing attorneys will square off, deselecting a “live” jury – with Judge McGahey presiding – and sharing their Voir Dire secrets. This will take approximately 45 minutes, then Dr. Steve Schwartz, a body-language expert will offer his comments on both the jurors and counsel. We will wrap up with Judge McGahey’s comments about jury selection, things you see on the bench (for better or worse), and other observations. Finally, the jurors themselves will comment on the attorneys.

When: April 16, 2009

Where: Judge McGahey’s Courtroom – Court Room #5
Denver District Court
Denver City and County Bldg
1437 Bannock St
Denver Co. 80202

Time: 3 to 5 p.m.

RSVP: bo@codla.org

Post-CLE: Katie Mullen’s Irish Pub at the Sheraton 16th Street (2 drink tickets for attendees)

Judge Robert McGahey was appointed to the Denver District Court bench in December 1999. Prior to his appointment, Judge McGahey was in private practice, specializing in insurance-defense matters. He received his undergraduate degree from Princeton University in 1971, and his law degree three years later from the University of Denver College of Law. In his first year on the bench, Judge McGahey heard domestic relations matters, and now hears a variety of civil cases.

Laurin D. Quiat, Esq., Baker & Hostetler, is a litigator who has acted as lead counsel in more than 75 jury and non-jury trials in Colorado and throughout the country, and in numerous arbitrations. His primary practice emphasis has been in the areas of construction, commercial and real estate/condemnation litigation, including appellate matters involving such areas.

Mr. Quiat has appeared in state and federal courts in Colorado, Michigan, New York, California, Kansas, Nevada, Illinois, New Hampshire and Utah. He has also argued before the Colorado and Kansas Supreme Courts.

Mr. Quiat has over 24 years of experience in managing, resolving and trying complex civil matters. Over the course of time, Mr. Quiat has represented a variety of construction contract parties, including owners, developers, sureties, general contractors, engineers, specialty subcontractors and suppliers. The size and scope of the projects involved in Mr. Quiat’s representation of clients has ranged into the hundreds of millions of dollars.

Most recently, Mr. Quiat represented the owner of a resort on a project which involved damages in excess of $100 million. In the 1990s, Mr. Quiat obtained (what was then) the largest jury verdict in Jefferson County, Colorado, on behalf of a construction surety client. In addition to recovering a judgment on behalf of the surety for an amount in excess of $1 million, Mr. Quiat successfully defeated a series of bad faith claims which had been asserted against his client.
